“ This lady I called Mom was the most loving, caring and forgiving person you'd ever want to meet. She loved Jesus and was the epitome of what He taught. If you were a friend of hers, you were a friend for life and she would defend you to the end of time. Her world was her family not materialistic stuff. She always said she didn't go to college and have book smarts, but she had common sense and common sense told her how to treat people. She never had much confidence in herself, but she always tried to instill confidence in her children and grandchildren. Always telling them "you can do it" or Yay, Yay or Go Go! So much so that my son Timmy called her Go Go instead of Grandma and his bear was named Yay Yay!!! If you looked up the word Mom or Grandma in the dictionary, her name would be there listed as the definition.

Her resume of life isn't filled with a list of organizations that she belonged to or employment titles, her resume was filled with being a mom, grandma and wife and she was the BEST!!

“ Mom we love you with "Our whole Hearts" as you would always say, from the day I was born and you held me, till the day you entered the "Gates of Heaven" , and we held you, that special bond between mother and son was never broken. You was such a trooper through the 12 years of your Alzhheimers and caring for you with the special team that we had to do that will never be broken, because you showed us unconditional love of each other that will always be there. Go in Peace momma, and always look over us as you enjoy that new body and dance in the presence of Jesus till you give us those "momma kisses" again. Love You with "My Whole Heart" Little Johnny Mark and Nina xoxoxoxoxoxo

“ I am so sorry for your loss, John, and your family. I remember your mom had such a HUGE heart and was always smiling and supportive. She sent many cards with lots of hearts! My parents loved her as well and Mom loved spending Halloween at your house all those years. She is at peace now. Prayers for her soul and your comfort. -Lynn Brosius Beach

“ Your Mom always took the time to say "Hello" and ask "How are you?" She was genuine, kind and comforting. When I close my eyes I can hear her sweet voice. May fond memories brighten the days ahead and give you strength and peace. Sending our sincere condolences with love and hugs!
