“ Andy was a special man. He had a love for the Lord and told everyone about it. I met him because he asked for a pianist for the chapel services at the Manor. He always told me that he was praying for me, he loved me, and that I was a good girl. Andy will always hold a special place in my heart.

“ It was my privilege to know Andy in his last few years. I work at the front desk at Westmoreland Manor. As Andy would come past my desk in the morning, we had a special greeting for one another. I would say, "This is the day that the Lord has made." Andy's reply was, "We will rejoice and be glad in it." Andy was quick to share his testimony of how he came to know the Lord after his injury in the war, and how Jesus Christ healed him when he was paralyzed. He was faithful to his Lord to the end. He will be greatly missed. Til we meet again in Heaven, my friend! Marge
