“ Jerry came off as a “grumpy old man” but he was anything but. He lit up when he talked about his grandchildren. He would plow our driveway before we’d get home from work. But we will remember him mostly for always cutting his grass constantly. Hopefully the happy memories will help you through the sad times.

“ We met Jerry though his wife Linda. We invited them to our daughters wedding on Long Island and I know Jerry didn’t want to come. He was convinced he wouldn’t like Long Island or the people who lived there 😞 But he changed his mind and enjoyed his LI visits almost as much as we enjoyed having him! We will always remember how proud he was of his wine. prosciutta and especially his grandchildren. His face would light up when he would tell us stories of them or show us pictures. He shared my love of fishing and the outdoors. Our lives are better because we knew him and will hold our memories close. Godspeed....with our sincere sympathy to the entire family Patti and Tom “ Jerry was always willing to help friends and family. He went on several trips to my camp and helped me do plumbing, flooring and other forms of construction. He was a big help to me and I enjoyed fishing and hunting with him through out the years. He was an excellent cook who was always making great food and drink. May God bless him and watch over his family during this difficult time.
