“ My sincere condolences to Michelle and the Ballough family:

Jim was an extraordinary man who was gifted with the ability to recognize the personal value in all of his employers and coworkers to help make them successful and the best they could be in their work environment. Jim was a true leader throughout his aviation career. His honesty and integrity, his sense of honor and "doing the right thing" were hallmarks of his relationships with friends and coworkers. Jim's courage set an example for everyone who knew him and he will be missed very much.

Since Jim was a man who could laugh and "enjoy the moment" I'm sure that you have a lifetime of memories of him enjoying his precious family time. May you take some comfort and joy in those memories.

May God bless you and comfort you during this difficult time. My thoughts and prayers are with you.

“ Sincere condolences we share with the precious family of Jim Ballough.

Jim modeled rock solid character and was a pillar in the Aviation industry. His honesty, strength of integrity, honor, compassion, courage, knowledge, trustworthiness, and unselfishness was known, honored, and felt in any room, event or occasion where he was present.

Through Scott's affiliation at CAVOK and I, through Southwest Airlines at past FAA sponsored Aviation Safety Action Program Infoshares, to have made Jim's acquaintance much less to have known him has made a unique impact on both of us for which we are so very, very grateful.

For sharing his greatness with the Aviation community, may you continue to be blessed.

Thank you.

“ I had the great pleasure of working with Jim during a commuter airline's certification when Jim was still working at the Allegheny FSDO. Jim worked at the Team Leader (I believe for the first time in that position.) He was very knowledgeable, ethical, fair, kind, flexible, and an excellent team leader. He always did "the right thing." The certification worked out very well. He progressed to the USAA CMO and then on to the NY Regional Office (R.O.) as a Deputy Division Manager and then Division Manager and eventually to FAA's Headquarters. I was fortunate to work for Jim at the R.O. He was an absolute pleasure to have as a manager (and as a co-worker). He was a natural leader, a gentleman, and a humanitarian. Everyone liked and respected Jim. I am deeply sorry to hear of his illness and passing. It is a huge loss for everyone. I express my deepest sympathies to Jim's family and friends. He will be missed!!!!

“ Many years ago (1986), Jim Ballough was the PMI for the Aircraft Maintenance Inc. repair station that I was chief inspector of at Allegheny County Airport. It was great working with him. Years later when I was hired by the FAA, I had pride knowing he was at the helm. As others have said, he never forgot you, and always had a kind and encouraging word.

Rest in peace Jim. I am sure you will hear "Well done, good and faithful servant".

“ I was in Jim's FAA outer office waiting to meet with him, when he suddenly appeared and, checked the date on his watch. He looked at the "award " hanging on the wall, and realizing that it was only valid for one year, he proceeded to pull it off the wall. It was presented by ISO (international standards organization) to Jim and Flight Standards. I don't think that Jim put much stock in fancy award or faux praise.

He was more concerned with concrete results (e.g., reducing the aircraft accident rate) and not focusing fancy-looking awards. He was a real person, not a phony. RIP

It was a friendly professional encounter that ended up buoying my efforts with the Carrier, and strengthening the results of working together.
