“ The most vivid memory I have of Joe is when he played an April Fools joke on Kelly when we were working the weekend together. He really had us hook, line, and sinker. I also remember the impression he made on my mom. She only met him once, but she instantly liked him, and he was very kind and patient with her. He had that kind of personality that made everyone feel right at home the moment he met them. I also remember all the Valentines Day deliveries he sent Kelly at work. He was a very good man.
