“ Our friendship unfolded over most of a century (80+ yrs) and over considerable distances (Carolinas, Texas, Florida, Hawaii) but these wild expanses only strengthened our relationship. We were the same age and met when we were 11 or 12. We completed high school together then our lives separated as we entered the services in WW II. Our friendship continued via mail, phone, visits and vacations thereafter. We knew each other well.

Bern was smart, serious, laidback and purposeful. His behavior was based on carefully well thought-out ideas. His conclusions were firm and opinions strong because of this. But he was not opinionated. Bern had a naturally gifted scientific mind that was open to ideas offered by others. But for him to accept those ideas they had to be equally well thought-out.

My friend made things mesh, he had the ability to allow things to work. He had the solid character that made contributions to others and he deserves to be remembered with pride. My wife Elaine and I think of him frequently and our thoughts have been of his family as well. Joe Johns El Paso, Tx.

Thank you, Joe, for your meaningful and insightful comments. A wise person once said to me, "Friends are the only people we truly choose in our lives." Family is given to us and we are drawn to partners/spouses for a variety of reasons, often not rational; friends are a conscious choice. I'm so glad you chose one other. Kim

BERNIE was a lovely guy; wise, soft spoken with a subtle sense of humor. I always looked forward to our lunches together in Florida. Most of all he produced a wonderful daughter who happens to be my cherished daughter in law. He taught her well. Job well done BERNIE. Rest in peace.

“ Dr. Keisler was a kind, sweet and brilliant man that I loved like a father figure. Not only was Dr. Keisler our families optometrist, but I played tennis numerous times with his wife and daughter at their home. My thoughts and prayers go to Kim, Mark and the entire family.

“ I met Dr. Keisler in class at the University of Pittsburgh's Graduate School of Public and International Affairs. As I worked in Greensburg and he lived in North Huntingdon, we carpooled into Pitt for classes when schedules permitted. We lost contact after graduation but saw each other again when Dr. Keisler was assigned as Mediator in a labor dispute I was handling.

Dr. Keisler was a professional but more important, he was a good man. My deepest sympathies to his family and friends.
