“ Marilyn and I married in 1957, we had 5 children. In 2003 we parted ways but remained in contact. She was a good mother for our children. I still have memories of our good years together.

“ Expressing my deepest condolences and sympathy to you and your family Joe on the passing of your late mom a few days ago. Marilyn (aka MIRT) is just another great American loss from this country's "Silent Generation (1028-1945) which lived, survived, and endured thru the "Great Depression, WWII, and the Cold War years of this country"...going thru this period of our history made these Americans one hard nut to crack or break....need I say anymore. She, like my late parents, are treasured and will be sadly missed, and now she's in the "BEST COMPANY and PLACE of them ALL" from now and on into eternity!!!

“Aunt Marilyn was not only my aunt, she was also my Godmother. She will always hold a very special place in my heart. I will remember Aunt Marilyn for her kind spirit, her smile, and her warm welcome. Aunt Marilyn always seemed to stay busy. She was a talented seamstress, a wonderful cook, a loyal visiting family member, and a devout Christian. Aunt Marilyn was a constant throughout my entire life and I will miss her dearly.
