“ Mike had one of the biggest hearts of anyone I've ever known outside of my own family. He offered ,and came through, when I needed him the most with helping my own Daddy. He never complained once about all the stuff my dad wanted him to do. I even apologized a thousand times and he only said "no problem, its OK". You will be missed by many people, me included. I always treat people the way they treat me and this is exactly why I have no problem in saying that I love you Mike. Rest in Peace babe... See you when I get there and make sure you meet me at the gate.

“ Tri-State Regional Spiritual Retreat 2015. We were friendly acquaintances, nothing more, yet, you are with me. It was sunrise coffee and quiet meditation, the chilly morning air was refreshing. We sat and greeted the new day together. Sunday. Complaining about wet feet and flip flops from the dewey grass. We laughed at how simple we were to even bother mentioning the wet grass, after all, what a joy just to be alive, right? We sat some more. The sun rose higher and the cabin began stirring with waking campers. We shared a hug, a smile and went on to our day's activity. It was a good day that began with you. I thank you for it, I won't forget.
