Tribute Wall

“ Aunt Pat seemed always to have a smile, a hug, and some compliments to welcome you, either at home or at a family gathering. I'll remember her fondly for so many things, especially how she made me feel welcomed and loved. Aunt Pat had a distinctive style and aesthetic as well. Their home has always been stylish and immaculately clean.

Aunt Pat and Uncle Rich have always been demonstrative in loving others as well as each other, and set an example for others in everything they did. Their devotion to each other, their son Richie, his daughter/their granddaughter Briana, family, and friends has been palpable.

I feel blessed to have been their nephew and, in these 'adult' years, a friend.

I know we are better because Aunt Pat and Uncle Rich have been a vital part of the fabric of our lives. We will all miss the Aunt Pat we knew and loved. My heart especially aches for Uncle Rich. Such a devoted husband and caretaker would be nearly impossible to find. My cousins, Richie and Briana, will also know these painful aches and feelings of loss my loving thoughts will be with them all as they navigate this very personal loss and the changes that will ensue.

I'm grieved that my health and my home distance away have kept me so isolated and unable to visit as much as I wanted, including this traditional time to gather together to share the love and support so distinctive to this transition and family.

In lieu of my ability to physically be there, I send my actual as well as my reflections of their love and support, my prayers for God's grace and compassion throughout, and the knowledge that by His love, we will have everything that we 'need' to traverse this time and the times that follow.

Loving and devoted nephew,

XOXOXO
Ed Collier
